

20 MARCH 2016 BELLS RESERVE COME AND TRY IT

Bells Reserve at Tabletop is a pleasant flat area and presented a few challenges for a CATI introduction to the orienteering season. The cooler weather saw a good turnout with some experienced orienteers present to assist new-comers in map reading and navigation.

Alex and Raf Friere may be new to orienteering but they showed good form when out together on the short course and followed up with good individual runs on the longer course.

Peter and Nicholas Mousley only get to orienteer after cricket season and both father and son put in good runs.

Groups of ladies and girls new to orienteering demonstrated determination and skill in successfully navigating their way around a tricky short course.
